Broward County Judge Jane Fishman was honored with the 2011 Harvey Ford Award at this year's Conference of County Court Judges of Florida, July 6, in Boca Raton, FL. The award is considered the highest honor presented by the Conference, as it recognizes one county court judge for their dedication of service to the community, to the legal profession, and to the Conference itself.

The award is named for Broward County Court Judge Harvey Ford, who died in 1995, and was known for his outstanding and dedicated community and professional service.
